

Insights for Government Agencies

Information for land management

Property Insight is perfecting the search for title with reliable data that's organized to provide a comprehensive profile of property and ownership, searchable using software that integrates data and images. Access data that is historically rich and diverse, including databases indexed by property location and grantor-grantee name; a document image repository that contains deeds, liens, judgments and other pertinent records; and map images and image back plants that can contain one hundred years of property history.

Connect with data using advanced search software that provides property and name searching capability, instant document retrieval of any recorded document and an integrated image viewer that will enable you to identify property boundaries using parcel and plat maps.

Get Started

Call: 877.747.2537

E-mail: pi_sales@propertyinsight.biz

Visit: propertyinsight.biz

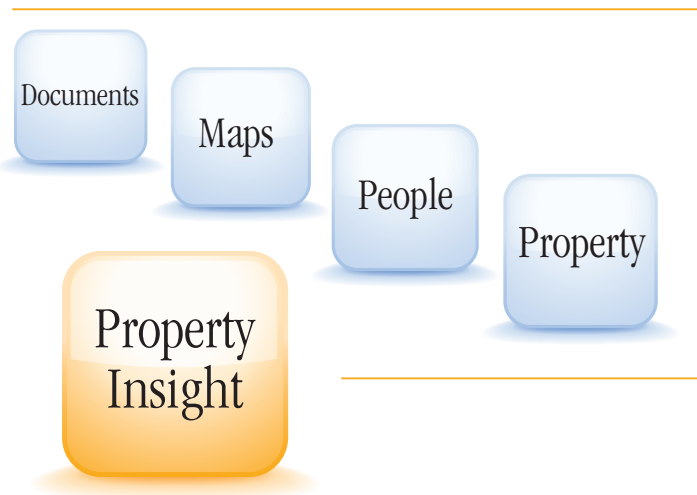

Property Insight is a registered trademark of Property Insight, LLC in the United States.

Comprehensive property information that's within reach

Owned by Fidelity National Financial, Property Insight is a leading information services and technology company serving the title insurance and real estate markets, and local and regional government agencies. We collect, manage and deliver information sourced from public record and private sources, including:

- Recorder/Registry of Deeds offices
- Tax assessor offices
- Tax collector offices
- Local, state and federal courts *
- Proprietary data compiled and managed by Fidelity National Financial companies, including starter records

The information you'll find:

We create value by linking data from various sources to deliver comprehensive profile of property ownership and ownership history, current liens and encumbrances, including court records and judgments, and documents that include land records and map images. These records are used to verify title to property and to enable title transfer.

* Available in selected counties